[14:41:21] 001:16 Q. Mr. Oakenshield, I'd like to direct your

[14:41:22] 001:17 attention to the events of the 5th of Ember-fall. Can

[14:41:24] 001:18 you describe, in your own words, exactly what you were [14:41:25] 001:19 doing when the incident began?

[14:41:26] 001:20 A. I was in the great hall, reviewing the

[14:41:27] 001:21 daily production reports from the mines, when I heard a

[14:41:29] 001:22 sound like forty thousand thunderstorms rolling in at [14:41:29] 001:23 once.

[14:41:31] 001:24 Q. Is it your testimony today that you were

[14:41:32] 001:25 completely unaware of the dragon's presence until it

[14:41:33] 002:01 was already breaching the main gate, despite the [14:41:35] 002:02 numerous warning signs posted by the forestry service?

[14:41:36] 002:03 A. We get false alarms all the time! Usually

[14:41:38] 002:04 it's just a rock slide or a particularly heavy dwarf

[14:41:40] 002:05 falling out of bed. I had no reason to suspect a

[14:41:40] 002:06 calamitous wyrm.

[14:41:42] 002:07 Q. Let's discuss the insurance policy in

[14:41:43] 002:08 question, specifically Exhibit 4. Did you read the [14:41:44] 002:09 exclusion clause regarding 'Scale-Based Acts of Terror'

[14:41:45] 002:10 before signing the document in triplicate?

[14:41:47] 002:11 A. I am a King, not a actuary! I have

[14:41:48] 002:12 advisors who read the fine print. I was told we were

[14:41:49] 002:13 covered for 'Everything under the Mountain,' which

[14:41:50] 002:14 implies... ever

[14:41:58] 002:19 A. That is a gross mischaracterization. I

[14:41:59] 002:20 may have commented on its hygiene, but I certainly

[14:42:01] 002:21 never insulted its mother. I have too much respect for
